Bachelor Degree in Music from Boise State University

My degree was focused on pedagogy, and I spend a significant amount studying private teaching. I also have a lot of experience teaching students with special needs. I have a background in working with special needs children, and am able to adapt music to different learning styles. I play weekly with a flute choir, and perform with them regularly. I also have a strong background in piano and organ. I currently play organ for congregations, and piano for church choirs. I also have been accompanying for 20 years
